

Kirk Brooker

A native of Demopolis, Alabama, Kirk Brooker graduated magna cum laude from Auburn University with a Bachelor of Fine Arts in Graphic Design.

In addition to being the Operations Director for the Marengo County Historical Society, Kirk has his own design business. His eye for design has extended beyond graphics and into interiors, painting, floral, and event planning. Kirk also works with area schools in art education, and has been commissioned by towns and schools in the region for outdoor and indoor murals.

Active in community theater, Kirk has worked on stage, back stage, and off stage for the past 15 years. His most recent roles include Tom in Glass Menagerie (Canebrake Players, Demopolis), and Chip in The 25th Annual Putnam County Spelling Bee (Sumter Theatre Workshop, Livingston). He's also directed several productions, including Wedding Singer (Demopolis), and Joseph and the Amazing Technicolor Dreamcoat (Thomasville).

Kirk stays active in the community by volunteering for events and non-profit organizations, including serving on the board of Project Horseshoe Farm.
